

North Canyon 5th Ward Spire

Merry Christmas! This holiday season is sure to be unlike others we have known in the past for a host of reasons. One thing will be the same, though: Jesus Christ. He is unchanging. What a great opportunity to remember Him and to set Him as the constant in this inconstant world.

This year, as we remember Him, I wanted to share an interesting thought my wife, Cami, shared with me. She was listening to author and teacher, David Butler, share an experience a friend of his had recently while contemplating the Savior during the administration of the sacrament. As we take of the sacrament, we renew our covenant to “take upon [us] the name of [the] Son.” While contemplating this, David’s friend said the Spirit asked him, “Yes, but which of His names will you take upon you?”

What an interesting question. Some that come to mind, especially this time of year, are those Isaiah memorialized, viz., Wonderful, Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. He is also known as the Good Shepherd, the Lamb of God, the Living Water, the Light and the Life, Master Healer, and our Advocate with the Father. The list is extensive.

As you contemplate the various names of Christ, which name will you choose to take upon you this Christmas season? Will you be a Prince(ss) of Peace? Will you be a Counselor? Will you be an Advocate for the downtrodden and marginalized? Will you be a Good Shepherd for those prone to wonder or are lost? Will you reach out to others with words that heal? - 5th Ward Bishopric Message

Elder's Quorum Message

Primary Message

This month, we will be having the Temple and Priesthood Preview for all of our primary children who are moving on to Young Women's and Young Men's. Be on the lookout for an invitation to this special evening, where you can learn a little bit more about all of the exciting things you'll be a part of as a young woman or young man! The meeting will be held at the church, with the children joining us from home via Zoom on December 27, 6:30 pm.

Temple and Family History – December 2020

A recent article in the local newspaper, The Davis Clipper, suggested that each of us should write something about our life. A biography or history about our life will provide information for our grandchildren and great-grandchildren about our life, our activities, and our feelings. Without something written about us, we will virtually be forgotten other than possibly our name. We all have some life history and experiences. Why not put some of that information in writing so that future generations of our family line will know something about us, some of the things that we did and some of the exciting experiences that we had. We can even post a short biography or history about ourselves on Family Search so that some information about us will be available for many generations.

Many of us, prior to this current pandemic, enjoyed regularly attending the temple to perform proxy ordinances for our deceased ancestors. The Bountiful Temple is still closed for proxy work. Why not take this opportunity to accomplish some family history work. There are several things that we can do. Above is mentioned that we can write something about our life. We can write something that we know about an ancestor. We can do some indexing, and we can identify ancestors who need temple ordinances. Let's each of us, while we cannot attend the temple regularly, do something about our individual family history.

Relief Society Message

As we pondered the beautiful counsel on gratitude from our beloved Prophet, we simultaneously experienced a spiritually uplifting stake conference as we were taught by President Coleman about hope. The connection between the two is inseparable. One cannot be grateful without also feeling hopeful about the present as well as the future, and one cannot be hopeful without feeling grateful to those who love, inspire, serve, and watch over us.

When President Coleman spoke of the hope new life brings, of the hope we feel when we are able to recognize tender mercies in our lives, and the hope we experience when angels literally rescue us, we silently took inventory and gave thanks.

Hopefully, both inspired messages can lead us to a greater awareness of God's watchfulness and take more time to express sincere, heartfelt gratitude to Him for His mercy, His graciousness, and the love He extends to each of us. Then, may we take daily steps to spread those feelings and expressions of gratitude and hope to others. By doing so, we can truly help to #Light the World.

As a presidency, we express our thankfulness to our ward family for the kindnesses extended to fellow members and neighbors. Additionally, we are thankful for our sisters, for their gifts of love, for their goodness, and for the support they provide to others.

We extend special appreciation to Mindie Dalley who has served faithfully as an excellent teacher in Relief Society during two presidencies. We thank Brooke Freebairn and Courtney Morrill who presently teach via Zoom, and we welcome Lelani Porter who is the newly sustained leader of the humanitarian committee which is playing a key role in the ward's Sub-for-Santa project this year. We look forward to participation in this annual tradition.

32 Yea, come unto Christ, and be perfected in him, and deny yourselves of all ungodliness; and if ye shall deny yourselves of all ungodliness, and love God with all your might, mind and strength, then is his grace sufficient for you, that by his grace ye may be perfect in Christ; and if by the grace of God ye are perfect in Christ, ye can in nowise deny the power of God.

Excerpts from:

The Hope of God's Light

By President Dieter F. Uchtdorf

Second Counselor in the First Presidency

Light Cleaveth unto Light

There may be some among you who feel darkness encroaching upon you. You may feel burdened by worry, fear, or doubt. To you and to all of us, I repeat a wonderful and certain truth: God's light is real. It is available to all! It gives life to all things. It has the power to soften the sting of the deepest wound. It can be a healing balm for the loneliness and sickness of our souls. In the furrows of despair, it can plant the seeds of a brighter hope. It can enlighten the deepest valleys of sorrow. It can illuminate the path before us and lead us through the darkest night into the promise of a new dawn.

This is "the Spirit of Jesus Christ," which gives "light to every man that cometh into the world."

Nevertheless, spiritual light rarely comes to those who merely sit in darkness waiting for someone to flip a switch. It takes an act of faith to open our eyes to the Light of Christ. Spiritual light cannot be discerned by carnal eyes. Jesus Christ Himself taught, "I am the light which shineth in darkness, and the darkness comprehendeth it not." For "the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned."

So how do we open our eyes to the hope of God's light?

First, start where you are.

Isn't it wonderful to know that we don't have to be perfect to experience the blessings and gifts of our Heavenly Father? We don't have to wait to cross the finish line to receive God's blessings. In fact, the heavens begin to part and the blessings of heaven begin to distill upon us with the very first steps we take toward the light.

The perfect place to begin is exactly where you are right now. It doesn't matter how unqualified you may think you are or how far behind others you may feel. The very moment you begin to seek your Heavenly Father, in that moment, the hope of His light will begin to awaken, enliven, and ennable your soul. The darkness may not dissipate all at once, but as surely as night always gives way to dawn, the light will come.

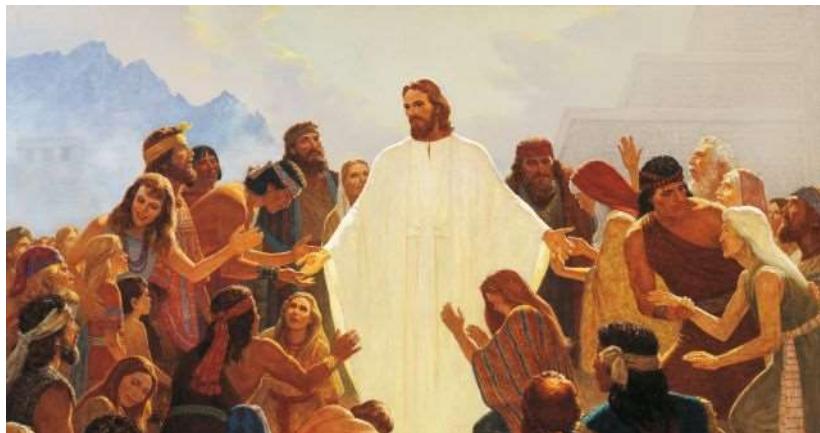

Second, turn your heart toward the Lord.

Lift up your soul in prayer and explain to your Heavenly Father what you are feeling. Acknowledge your shortcomings. Pour out your heart and express your gratitude. Let Him know of the trials you are facing. Plead with Him in Christ's name for strength and support. Ask that your ears may be opened, that you may hear His voice. Ask that your eyes may be opened, that you may see His light.

Third, walk in the light.

Your Heavenly Father knows that you will make mistakes. He knows that you will stumble—perhaps many times. This saddens Him, but He loves you. He does not wish to break your spirit. On the contrary, He desires that you rise up and become the person you were designed to be.

To that end, He sent His Son to this earth to illuminate the way and show us how to safely cross the stumbling blocks placed in our path. He has given us the gospel, which teaches the way of the disciple. It teaches us the things we must know, do, and be to walk in His light, following in the footsteps of His Beloved Son, our Savior.
