The Riverton Museum at the Crane House

The Riverton Museum is housed in the former home of Heber and Mary Jane Crane, better knows as the Crane House. Built in 1918 the home is a perfect example of Arts & Crafts architecture and design. Saved from the wrecking ball and relocated from Redwood Road to its current location, the museum houses the best gallery space south of Salt Lake City. Art shows and exhibits are scheduled throughout the year. From January to June the museum hosts the Monday Night at the Museum Series at 7:00 p.m., free to the public and the Outdoor Monday Night at the Museum Music Series in August. The museum features information on Riverton History and the Crane Family. After an interior renovation in 2005, the museum now features William Morris Wallpapers and updated décor true to the period. Come and step back in time and visit the beautiful Riverton Museum at the Crane House.
