

Counting Blessings

Family & Friends

*The two things we're most grateful for
Are our family and our friends -*

The care they have provided,

The love so strong and true,

The thoughtfulness that's spoken

In words and actions, too.

Our Grandmas and our Grandpas,

Our Mothers and our Dads,

Our Brothers and our Sisters

Are there through good and bad.

They're special friends to share with,

Our smiles, our hopes, our fears.

When counting all God's blessings,

Gifts of love that never end -

We can count on friends as family,

And our family as true friends.

They had been to Harrison Regent & Lou Smith showed them around for an apt. for Ranyo. K. mother. She didn't know Bev. Jean Meffat is a cook there for 6 yrs. I shoveled snow and ice off the patio & the snow is melting.

(36 dozen & ham filling). Latell said Janeline bought them but she was in error & Bruce told her they had bought them & he would share & didn't want any problem but she said 'take them and go - & you should hang your head in shame the way you have done the girls & raved on about how much she had spent.

Brenda said "lets go" & took the box of rolls & filling and left. They were upset when they got home.

What contention in that family. Can't seem to please people. "I am if you & damn if you don't".
